Re: Oxfordshire Transformation Programme

As Medical Director of the Oxford University Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust, I am writing to express my support for the clinical models that are being developed to underpin the Oxfordshire Transformation Programme. I can confirm that these models are the product of a clinically led process which has seen the full and active participation of clinical colleagues from this Trust working in collaboration with clinicians from our partner organisations. I believe that the new models of care will deliver safer, higher quality and better patient experience and outcomes for the populations that we serve, as well as responding to the demographic, operational and financial challenges currently facing the Oxfordshire Health and Social Care system.
